Criterion VI

6. Governance, Leadership and Management

6.1 State the Vision and Mission of the institution:

The college being established in 1853, there exists little in the name of a coherent statement of vision and mission that would answer to the higher education scenario in modern India and ascertain the institution's role within it. However, by collating the will and letters of Raja Krishnath of Cossimbazar, one can deduce the vision of a liberal, secular institution where students from all religions and social communities would be treated at par and given the best available western education in the languages, humanities and modern sciences. This dream has been part of the Raja's endeavour to lift his people out of a medieval caste-based education, into the onward march of the Renaissance of Bengal. Added to this is the Government Indenture that would speak for itself. Together, they spell the mission of imparting the highest quality of education to a backward people in a perfectly democratic and secular atmosphere, reaching out to the most downcast.

6.2 Does the Institution have a management information system:

Though the college does not have a modernized MIS in place, collecting, aligning and integrating data is done through a traditional process aided by feedbacks, which generally meets the requirements of government systems and educational upgradation needs.

Academic and administrative responsibilities are communicated through general notices, or letters in cases where individuals are concerned. The aforementioned Sub-committees are formed by nominating members from faculty and non – teaching staff and a convener among them. In the first meeting of each such committee, the Principal and Convener delineate the functions and scopes of the committee, which are then discussed until unanimous agreement.

In addition, the Principal may form small committees for executing certain time – framed tasks like running examinations, cultural programmes seminars or workshops.

6.3 Quality improvement strategies adopted by the institution for each of the following:

6.3.1 Curriculum Development:

Though the development of curricula lies largely in the hands of the affiliating university which plans and designs syllabi and courses, the college has prepared and sent proposals for introduction of Honours courses in Statistics and Environmental Science, Postgraduate course in Zoology, and General courses in Statistics, Computer Science, Physical Education, Sociology and Biotechnology. The college plans to introduce short-term courses on Communication Skills in English.

6.3.2 Teaching and Learning:

The College has enabled teaching facilitations like smart classroom and white boards, has provided LCD projectors to several departments and a central computer laboratory for general use. Remedial coaching for students of the reserved and minority categories runs besides tutorial classes arranged by departments based on need.

6.3.3 Examination and Evaluation:

While the major role in examining and evaluating is taken up by annual term-end university examinations where the college plays its assigned role as venue and conductor of practical examinations, the college keeps up a system of continuous evaluation through intra-departmental tests and term-end tests where students must qualify to get through to university examinations.

6.3.4 Research and Development:

The College has a UGC sub-committee in place to promote research and encourage faculty members to avail of FDPs and conduct seminars, symposia and workshops, besides the free use of library and ICT facilities available in the college. The college library subscribes to several journals conducive to research.

6.3.5 Library, ICT and physical infrastructure/instrumentation

We are interested to go for online public access catalogue (OPAC). That is why KOHA has been installed and job for cataloging started. Smart class room is about to be started.

6.3.6 Human Resource Management:

The Roster of teaching staff has been set along government norms, and the same for non-teaching staff is soon to be authenticated. Resource persons and Guest faculty are engaged on a regular basis, and their remuneration is provided as per norms. Student facilities are extended to optimum levels, with a collaborative arrangement with the Students' Health Home, a Grievance Redressal Cell, a Women's Grievance Cell and a Teacher-Student Co-ordination Committee.

6.3.7 Faculty and Staff Recruitment: Requisitions are duly sent for posts fallen vacant in the faculty, to be filled via recommendations from the College Service Commission.

6.3.8 Industry Interaction/Collaboration: None.

6.3.9 Admission of Students:

Admission to both UG and PG courses is done through counselling along merit lists prepared on the basis of marks obtained in the previous examination, following stipulated reservation norms fixed by the government policies. For several years now, admission is being done online and payments are being received through a bank.

6.4 Welfare schemes for:

Teaching: Krishnath College Employees' Credit Co-operative Society, Teachers' Welfare Fund

Non-teaching: Krishnath College Employees' Credit Co-operative Society

Students: Concessions allowed in tuition fees and examination fees considering financial condition, Students' Aid Fund, medical facility available in collaboration with Students' Health Home, a book bank in the central library for insolvent students.

For UG Programmes	Yes	<input type="checkbox"/>	No	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
For PG Programmes	Yes	<input type="checkbox"/>	No	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>

6.9 What efforts are made by the University/Autonomous College for Examination Reforms?

6.10 What efforts are made by the university to promote autonomy in the affiliated/constituent colleges?

6.11 Activities and support from the Alumni Association

The Alumni Association, 'Praktani', is a very supportive organisation integrated to the functioning of the college. It donates books, furniture on a regular basis, holds seminars and invited lectures in association with the college, contributes to the upkeep of existing facilities and makes suggestions for improvement.

6.12 Activities and support from the Parent-Teacher Association

A guardians' forum has been formed that meets teachers and authority periodically to discuss students' performance and the general academic atmosphere.

6.13 Development programmes for support staff

Computer training programmes have been made available for non-teaching staff.

6.14 Initiatives taken by the institution to make the campus eco-friendly

The college has been declared a smoke-free zone and a water plant supplying arsenic-free water has been installed. Rainwater harvesting is done through several storage facilities. The college has plantations maintained both by departments (like Botany) and the authority, and recently a Van Mahotsav, planting many saplings, has been observed. Students enrolled in the National Service Scheme are entrusted with looking after the eco-friendly atmosphere. The IQAC has recently organised a seminar on environment and eco-friendliness in the campus, with the Director of Public Instruction, Government of West Bengal, as one of the speakers.
